SUPPOSED DEAD MAN ALIVE.

MRS. NULLETT THOUGHT SHE HAD BURIED HER HUSBAND.

Identified Body of a Drowned Man as His and Spent Insurance Money for Burial Now He Writes That He Is Alive and

Well and on His Way to San Francisco. Frank J. Nullett, who used to have charge a store in Troy, N. Y., for S. B. Clarke Co., bakers, of Manhattan is still supposed to be living, although the body of drowned man was identified as Nullett's and buried in Lutheran Cemetery about two months ago. Letters, which it is said Nullett alone could have written, have been received since the time of his supposed burial. There seems to be no question hat those letters are in his handwriting. Furthermore, they contain reference to some matters knowledge of which he alone

Nullett, who if alive is in his fifty-eighth year, was employed for nearly twenty years by the National Biscuit Company and formerly lived at 45 Bleecker street, Brooklyn. About a year ago he moved to Troy to superintend the store which the Clarke company opened there, taking his wife and their 12-year-old son, Leo, along. On the morning of Oct. 19 he left Troy to come to New York on a business trip, telling his wife that he would return in a couple of days.

He was in New York on the afternoon of that date, and after visiting the office of the Clark firm, in Grand street, started for the Hatfield House, in Grand near Ridge street, where, as he explained, he was to put up for the night. He never, so far as can be learned, reached the Hatfield House, having dropped completely out of sight after he left the office of his employers. A few weeks after her husband's disappearance, Mrs. Nullett came to New York with her son and, failing, even with the aid of the police, to get any tidings of her miss-ing husband, went to live at 55 Downing street. Brooklyn, and supported herself by working in laundry. On June 3 she saw a notice in a newspaper that the body of a drowned man had been found off Staten Island. She identified it as the body of her husband. The insurance company with which Mr. Nullett had a burial policy for $250 was satisfied with the identification and paid the widow the money, half of which she spent on the interment and the

which she spent on the internal and the ther half in placing a modest little monument over the grave.

In describing the identification of the drowned man by Mrs. Nullett, Coroner Schaefer of Staten Island said: "The identification was perfectly satisfactory. Before seeing the body she said her hus-band had a broken leg below the knee, an band had a broken leg below the knee, an abscess on the leg and a mark on the body made by a rope. The body was found to bear all these marks, and besides, Mrs. Nillett identified the man as her husband by his teeth and general features, which were not entirely destroyed.

Not until July 24 did any doubt arise on the question of Mrs. Nullett's identification. On that day Samuel Feltman, a painter and decorator in Brooklyn, who had long been acquained with Mr. Nullett, received a bulky letter postmarked "Fall"

Nullett in his care. Mr. Feltman recognized the address on the enevelope as in the handwriting of Nullett and hastened to deliver it to Mrs. Nullett. Finding that she had gone on a visit to Troy, he left it to be delivered to her on her return. On July 31, just a week later, Mr. Feltman received a letter addressed to himself and in the same handwriting as that he had received for Mrs. Nullett. This one bore the postmark Newport, R. I. Mr. Feltman with a slight nervous tremor, opened the letter from his supposed dead friend. It was from Nullett, who inquired if Mr. Feltman had delivered the previous letter. Mr. Feltman at once communicated with Mrs. Nullett. Mrs. Nullett had not received the letter addressed to her, it having served the letter addressed to her, it having been sent after her to Troy. On arriving at Mr. Feltman's house and on arriving at Mr. Feitman's nouse and being shown the Newport letter, Mrs. Nullett handed it back to Mr. Feltman and declared that she still believed her husband was dead and buried, but that even were he alive she did not want to see him again.

"I will never," she said, "have anything

do with a man who could treat a wife in this fashion

She admitted that the letter seemed to be in the handwriting of her husband. In the letter to Mrs. Nullett her husband explained that he had gone away on account of the disagreements between them, but that on account of their boy there should be respect between them, if it were not possible for mutual love to exist any longer. He

You may think that I am trying to come back, but I am not, for I am going from here to Bar Harbor and from there I am going to Frisco, to the soldiers' encampment, on Aug. 19. I will be back in New York about

Much of the letter was taken up with explanations about Nullett's affairs and inquiries about his friends. Mr. Feltman has sent letters to Nullett according to the instructions in his letter, but so far has received no response. He has not the least doubt that Nullett is alive and on his way by easy stages across the continent.

It was said yesterday at the office of the Clark firm, by which Nullett had been employed, that he was a superior salesman and was making $50 a week at the time of his

WARNED AGAINST NEGROES. Indianapolis Flooded With Circulars Calling for Negro Subordination.

Indianapolis, Aug. 4.- When the people of this city got up this morning they found the town flooded with printed circulars under the caption "The Negro in Indian-

The circular referred to the influx of negroes here and in other Indiana cities and called upon the whites to make the negroes subordinate to themselves. It reproduces an editorial article from the New Orleans Times-Democrat of Oct 19, 1902, which treats of the race situation in Indianapolis, and asserts that if decent white people want to continue to live in peace and se curity in this city they must unite in eliminating the negro as a political factor.

"To speak frankly," says the circular, Indianapolis is suffering from an experiment that has been tried many times in history and never once with suc-Wherever the Caucasian and the African have been required to live together, the lower has always been subordinated to the higher type; the negro has been required to live as the white man would permit him to live.

"From ancient Cairo to modern Indianapolis the results of the experiment have been unvarying. The black race is to-day subordinated to the white race in South Africa, in the Southern States of the American Union and wherever, indeed, the two races in larger numbers come in intimate contact with one another.

AUTO BLOWS UP IN A SHOP. Workman Badly Hurt-Tank Not Emptied When He Went to Repair It.

An explosion and fire in the automobile storage rooms of Specht & Sire, at 121 West Thirty-first street, made trouble yesterday afternoon. A big $10,000 machine belonging to H. Van Rensselaer Kennedy had just been taken to the third floor and Julius Ashe, an employee, went to repair it.

Ashe had a small hand-furnace with him When he got to tinkering with the machine he discovered, to his dismay, that the gasolene tank had not been emptied. ' At the same moment the vapor of the gasolene reached the furnace. An explosion followed and a moment later Ashe, with his lothes all afire, ran downstairs.

Richard Brown, a clerk, tripped Ashe as the latter reached the sidewalk and smothered the fire in the man's clothing. Ashe was taken to the New York Hospital in a serious condition.

The fire badly injured Mr. Kennedy's machine and scorched three or four others, the total damage being more than $10,000.

DEFENSIVE FLEET READY. Admiral Barker's Vessels to Sail Fron

Bar Harbor Early This Morning. BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 4 .- The Blue or defending squadron of the navy in the search problem" will sail from here some time after midnight to-night. Just when the ships will go out is not known to any one but Admiral Barker. It is thought here that the ships will not go out together. Those which are to be on scout duty will probably be sent out earlier than the battleships and cruisers, which will do duty nearer shore

It has been decided to take the training ship out on the problem, so that all the ships of the North Atlantic fleet, except those which compose the enemy, will go out

The large vessels in Admiral Barker's fleet The large vessels in Admiral Barker's fleet are the battleships Kearsarge, Alabama and Illinois; the cruisers Olympia, Baltimore and Topeka, and the big scout boats Prairie. Panther and Yankee. The torpedo boat destroyers of the defending fleet have each had one of their smokestacks painted a bright red to distinguish them from the destroyers of the enemy. Wireless telegraphy has been installed on some of the ships, and the new means of communications will have a thorough test in action.

The sky clouded here to-nig weather conditions are favorable for a fog.

If a good fog comes in the enemy will have a great advantage.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 4.—The first reports of the presence of the fleet of warships off Portland was brought in to-day. ships off Portland was brought in to-day by the Dominion liner Irishman, Capt. J. O. Williams. While off the entrance to the harbor last night, Capt. Williams says he saw the vessels cruising back and forth, some going to the eastward and some to the westward. Signals by the aid of lights were passing. Capt. Williams was unaware of the identity of the ships until daylight. until davlight.

Now that the attacking force of the North Atlantic fleet under Admiral Sands is at sea, preparations to prevent him from making a port anywhere along the Maine coast are being made.

One of the first steps in this direction is the installation of a searchlight station in old Fort George. Upon the top of the structure an immense light has been put in position. It will illuminate every part of the inner harbor. A force will be kept in the fort during the manœuvres. With the installation of the searchlight, the flag was raised over the old fort for the first was raised over the old fort for the first time, it is said, since the civil war. Similar preparations are being made at other points along the coast, and if the present clear weather continues the attacking fleet will have great difficulty in making a harbor.

CHINA DEMANDS PRISONERS. Viceroy Accepts an Extension of His Tern

FORMAL REQUEST TO MINISTERS TO TURN OVER REFORMERS

Now in Foreign Concession at Shanghai -Their Fate Likely to Be Similar to That of the One Put to Death by Torture in Pekin a Few Days Ago.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN PEKIN, Aug. 4.-The Throne yesterday made formal representations to the foreign Ministers in regard to the Chinese reformers who were arrested at Shanghai, asking that they be turned over to the Chinese authorities for trial and repudiating the agreement made by the Shanghai Taotai guaranteeing their trial and punishment in the foreign concession at Shanghai.

Acting on the requests of the Consuls Shanghai in regard to the disposition of the case, the Ministers have referred the matter to their home Governments, and now, unless the press is able to arouse public sentiment it is very likely that the Ministers, acting solely under the letter of the treaties, will be obliged to hand the accused over to a Government whose punshments are the most barbarous on earth. Some of the Ministers seem to be convinced that by supporting the dynasty they will secure trade benefits, while one dynasty will safeguard missionaries and other foreigners in the interior. It is said that the Dowager Empress vas responsible for the death by torture of a reformer who was killed in the yard of the Board of Punishments a few days ago and that she is anxious to punish similarly all other reformers and to dip her hands as deeply into their blood as she did into the blood of the foreigners and pro-foreign Chinese in 1900. On account of the inconvenience that vould attend diplomatic relations if the Throne displayed ill will the Ministers, with the exception of the British representative, are disposed to grant the Dowager Empress's request for the surrender of the accused at Shanghai, two of whom have confessed. If the British Minister maintains his opposition it will be sufficient to prevent final action by the diplomatic

During the past year the Throne has made a great pretence to revise the penal and criminal codes. The latter contains no provision for the disposition of prisoners of war, and they are promptly murdered or subjected to barbarous punishments. Wu Ting-fang, formerly Chinese Minister at Washington, was appointed to revise the codes, but the Empress, who showed her contempt for foreign learning by appointing him to an under-secretaryship in the Board of Foreign Affairs, has further shown her hatred of such learning by promoting a man who was two steps below Wu Ting-fang to a place over his head. Her most important concern now is to kill off the enemies of the dynasty.

FRENCH MOB ATTACKS COURT. Angry at Sentence of a Striker-Dispersed by Troops.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN Paris, Aug. 4 .- A despatch to the Petit Journal from L'Orient, Department of Morbihan, says that at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a striker implicated in Sunday's riot at Hennebont was tried before L'Orient tribunal and sentenced to a term of two months' imprisonment. A crowd gathered outside, protesting loudly. The attitude of the mob became so hostile toward the gendarmes that they sought refuge in the court. The mob stoned the Palace of Justice and broke many windows.

Subsequently a number of strikers stormed the building. Owing to the fact hat the Maritime Prefect was absent from the troops that were asked for failed to arrive and the Judges were compelled to remain in court.

At 9 o'clock two companies of infantry arrived, but they were unable to do anything. At 9:30 o'clock the horse artillery arrived and after charging the mob several times succeeded in releasing both the Judges and the gendarmes.

NEW CUNARD AGREEMENT. Government to Pay the Company $840, 000 a Year.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LONDON, Aug. 4.—The agreement between the Government and the Cunard Steamship Company was issued this evening. Instead of paying for the conveyance of mails according to weight, a fixed sum of £68,000 will be paid to the company annually during the time of the contract, which is for twenty years from the first sailing of the second new steamer to be built by the company. These steamers are to be built under the former agreement with the Government. The mails must be carried at a higher average speed than now, and the company is bound to use its best boats for this purpose. The subsidy covers parcels mails up to 100 tons in each direction weekly. The old agreement provided no penalties, but the new agreement provides for a proportionate deduction from the subsidy if the company fails to perform the stipu-

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LONDON, Aug. 5.- The Daily Mail, whose advocated policy would thereby be suited, gives prominence to rumors that the dissolution of Parliament is closely impending. It says that Sir William Vernon-Harcourt is credited with stating that the dissolution will take place in September.

The paper adds that if Colonial Secretary Chamberlain fails to reconcile the Duke of Devonshire to his policy within a short time Prime Minister Balfour will submit the resignation of the Ministers to the King His Majesty will then, according to the Mail, summon the Duke of Devonshire to form a new Cabinet as the alternative to dissolution, but there is great doubt whether the Duke would accept the task It would be necessary, in case of his refusal, either to call a Liberal administration or appeal to the country.

MISS FAIRBANKS TO WED.

Divorced Daughter of the Senator to Marry Ensign Timmons of the Navy.

Indianapolis, Aug. 4 .- Friends of the family of United States Senator Fairbanks gave out the information to-day that Miss Adelaide Fairbanks, the Senator's oldest daughter, and Ensign Timmons of the United States Navy are engaged and that the wedding will take place soon after the Fairbanks family returns to Washington.

Miss Fairbanks and Mr. Timmons were classmates at college at Delaware, Ohio, and were lovers when mere children. They corresponded for some time after leaving school, but for some reason the interchange of letters was discontinued. Timmons er tered the navy and Miss Fairbanks met and loved Dr. Horace R. Allen, a young physician of this city.

The family of the Senator was much opposed to Allen, and he and Miss Fairbanks, after a stormy scene at the Fairbanks home on Park avenue, went to the house of a mutual friend and were married. The parents of the bride forgave her and received Allen as a son, but it was not long before the couple quarrelled and separated and less than a year ago a divorce granted on complaint of the wife.

TWO UNCONSCIOUS IN A CAB.

MAN AND WOMAN THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN DRUGGED.

Miss Kent and Dr. Denslow, Who Say They Are From Poughkeepsle, Met Acquaintance of Doctor, Who Treated Physicians Think He Took Morphine

A young woman who said she was Miss Telen Kent, a school teacher at Linden Hall, Poughkeepsie, and a man who she said was Dr. Marmaduke Denslow, also of Poughkeepsie, got into trouble at Coney

Not long after 9 o'clock an open carriage drove up to the Coney Island police station The cabman went inside and told Capt. Dooley that he had two fares who didn't know where they wanted to go and who needed attention. The captain looked under a rubber hood that had been drawn partly over the inside of the vehicle and found the doctor and his companion there,

Both were drenched to the skin and the roman had no hat. Capt. Dooley and the doorman lugged them into the station and Dr. Jones was summoned from the Emergency Hospital. He found that both had been drinking and said fhat the doctor had evidently taken some morphine. The young woman was revived after half an hour's work, but the doctor was in such bad condition that he had to be taken to the hospital. The police tried o get at the facts of the pair's misadventure That there will be a contest over the The young woman, who was held, said that she and the doctor had come down from Poughkeepsie on an excursion and were about to return when the doctor met a man whom he knew in front of Doyle's Hotel on Surf avenue. They had some drinks, she said, and then she became drinks, she said, and then she became unconscious.

The police later found that the doctor's friend was Frank Clifton, a waiter at Doyle's Hotel. They arrested him and told him he would be detained until the affair was cleared up. Doyle said that he had been a waiter on the steamboat Grand Republic, and in that way had met Dr. Denslow on an excursion.

lic, and in that way had met Dr. Denslow on an excursion.

"I met 'em in front of Doyle's," said Clifton, "and invited 'em over to Pabst's to have some drinks. Each of 'em had three cocktails and the woman got very drunk. They kept on drinking until they were both in bad shape. Then I got the cabman and paid him to take them away."

"That's one of the most magnanimous things a Coney Island waiter ever did. I never heard of such a thing. Here you say you took a man and a woman away from your own hotel to another to drink, and then, when they were overcome, hired and then, when they were overcome a cabman out of your own pocket. a cabman out of your own pocket. We'll look that up."

When the doctor and the schoolteacher reached the station the woman had lost her wristbag, wrap and hat. The doctor had only a few cents in his pockets.

ASPHALT TRUST CLAIMS.

Receiver Tatnall Files a Bill in Court Ask ing Questions of Promoters.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug 4.—The first state ment of claims of Receiver Henry Tatnall who is seeking to recover $4,000,000, alleged illegal profits, from the Asphalt Trust promoters, was filed to-day in the United States Circuit Court. The defendants in the suit are G. W. Elkins, W. L. Elkins, G. D. Widener, E. Burgess Warren, W. J Latta and Sidney F. Tyler.

All the charges are revived in the form of 123 questions, to which answers are demanded. The bill relates the early history of the Asphalt Company of America of which the defendants were promoters, and asks whether, after the formation of the Asphalt Company, G. W. Elkins Amzi L. Barber and Francis V. Greene did not buy from prior holders all the stock of the subsidiary companies of the trust and whether the defendants didn't the board of Directors of the company the amount paid for the interests in these

The complainant further asks whether after these companies were bought, they were not incorporated into the United Asphalt Company with a capital stock of 40,000 shares, and whether they were not assigned to the Asphalt Company of American American State of the Asphalt Company of American State of the Asphalt Company o ice for stock in the latter corporation. Mr. Tatnall said to-day that he would not begin the suits against Francis V Greene and the New York branch of pro-

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 1, 1903. DEAR MADAM: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 30th uit., and state that it has been brought to the Presistate that it has been brought to the President's attention.

The President, as was shown by his action while Governor of New York, has the heartiest sympathy with every effort to prevent child labor in factories, and on this matter no argument need be addressed him, as his position has been announced again and again.

Under the Constitution it is not at present seen how Congress has power to act in such a matter. It would seem that the States alone at present have the power to deal with the subject. Very truly yours.

SHAMROCK III:S EASY WIN. Challenger Beats Old Boat by 9 Minutes 15 Seconds in Twenty Miles.

The Cup challenger Shamrock III. had another good trial yesterday, and in a fresh wind and rough sea she beat the Shamrock I. by 9 minutes 15 seconds, over a course ten miles to windward and return. The yachts started out from Sandy Hook Bay at 10 o'clock in the morning under lower sails only. When near the Scotland lightship, gaff topsails were set and, as the wind was from the south southeast, a course ten miles to windward was signailed from the Erin. Capt. Wringe managed nailed from the Erin. Capt. Wringe managed to berth the challenger well, and the yachts crossed the line at these times: Shamrock II., 11:09:15; Shamrock II. 11:09:17. The old boat was under the lee of the challenger, and Capt. Bevis-romped her off to get clear of Shamrock III. and then tried to pinch up again, but the new boat was too speedy and soon had a commanding lead. The times at the outer mark and the gains over the first leg of the course were as follows:

On the ten-mile beat the challenger had gained 4 minutes I second.

They ran home with spinnakers, and the challenger again drew away from the older boat. The times over the last leg of the Reliance Tuning Tp at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 4 .- The two 90-foot sloops Reliance and Constitution did not leave this morning for the westward, as it was thought was the intention, and there is now a possibility of their remaining at Newport until some time next week, leaving just in time to get ready for the Cup races. Mr. August Belmont has left Newport for Saratoga, but he has instructed Capt. Rhodes to remain with the Reliance and to give the latter boat all the tuning up spins and friendly brushes that she wants. Early in the morning sail was set and at 10 o'clock the yachts left their moorings back of the torpedo station and stood out to sea. There was a light southeast wind and outside the sea was practically calm. After reaching the lightship they manouvred for some time and then started off on a beat to windward, going about six miles southeast of the lightship, when they came about and reached back to Newport. It was decidedly the Reliance's day outside, and she could be seen to make space on the Constitution all the time. Betting on the Reliance at 10 to 7 in Wall

Money to be wagered on the result of the international yacht races came into Wall international yacut races came into Wall Street yesterday in volume. Frederick H. Brooks handled some considerable blocks on both sides. He placed a bet of $3,500 to $5,000 on the Shamrock, and later announced that he had about $10,000 to bet, in any part, at odds of 10 to 7 on the Reliance.

WAITED 30 YEARS

For the Proper Food.

A man who was a semi-invalid for 30 years got well in about a month when he found the right food. He says: "When I was 19 years of age I had a severe attack of Typhoid fever and after almost starving to death I was left in a pitiable condition. "My nervous system was so shattered that I had to walk with a cane for 6 months after I got on my feet and my stomach was terribly distended. This was thirty years ago and since that time I have never known health although I had tried doctor after doctor, until 6 months ago I saw an article about Grape-Nuts that impressed me so that I thought I would try it. "So I gave Grape-Nuts a trial, more as something to eat than with any idea it would help me. My improvement commenced immediately and has kept right up until now I have used 7 packages and I feel like another person. I am in better health than I have been since boyhood and am strong and contented. Grape Nuts food helped me after everything else failed and I look on this as an evidence of tailed and I look on this as an evidence of the great power of proper food."
